Start-up Hub & Innovation Area

In 2023, INTERSPEECH conference will feature a new designated exhibition area called the Start-up Hub & Innovation Area.

The Interspeech Community has played a vital role over the decades in advancing the state of the art around the science and technology of spoken language. Start-ups are one of the driving forces behind innovation and adoption in all the most emerging categories of the speech technology. With this year's conference theme "Inclusive Spoken Language Science and Technology - Breaking Down Barriers", we want to give start-ups the opportunity to showcase their innovative approaches in promotion of the theme of inclusion.

There will be a designated exhibition area, where the INTERSPEECH 2023 participants will have the opportunity to see the latest emerging ideas and as a Start-up, you will meet with over 1,500 speech science and technology enthusiasts as well as possible investors!

If you are a start-up and have developed innovative products then INTERSPEECH 2023 offers you various opportunities to introduce yourself and your products, find new customers and potential business partners and become part of the speech community.
